

The Daily Courier

Monday, January 14, 2013

Letter: Australian says Prescott was a joy during visit

Monday, January 14, 2013

EDITOR:

I'm an Australian who chose Prescott for the holiday season during my vacation in the United States. I stumbled upon the area when looking at photography sites featuring pictures of the city and its surrounds.

I am fortunate to have a vacation trip that will see me visit a significant portion of the states - around 20 states to be precise - despite which, I am really sad to be leaving Prescott this weekend.

This is a beautiful place, a wonderful community with friendly people and attractions to boot! I have no doubt that I will return to Prescott sooner rather than later but, in the meantime, wanted to briefly share the wonderful month I have spent here.

The opinion I would venture about Prescott perhaps lacks the critical elements often associated with editorial submissions. I wouldn't change anything about this beautiful town. I realize I do not live here but cannot speak more highly of my experience as a visitor.

I suspect that a discerning international tourism market would really savor the chance to experience what I have experienced in Prescott - a traditional Christmas, natural beauty, flawless hospitality and the friendliest people I have met throughout my global travels.

Then again, maybe it's better left a well-kept secret! This Aussie wants to thank Prescott and all those I've met here on my visit - what a wonderful part of the world it is!

Cawley Hennings

Canberra, Australia

Related Links:

---

">Content © 2013

">Software © 1998-2013 1up! Software, All Rights Reserved